

Diversity filmmaker and Easterhouse lass Sharon McCance was nominated Best Director in the recent BAFTA Scotland New Talent Awards with her first documentary The Legacy, about the Glasgow Urban Collective, a film she both filmed, directed and edited. The film has now got the attention of the Community Channel who will screen it in near future. Check back on www.diversityfilms.org.uk for details soon.

Sharon interviews Jade during the culminating gig in Platform for her film The Legacy.

The Happy Nominee, Sharon with Sound dubber Leo

For further info <http://www.baftascotland.co.uk/news/55/new-talent-awards-2010-nominations>

Synopsis

When the music initiative British Urban Collective headed to Scotland in the autumn of 2008, Sharon McCance took the opportunity to follow the journey of some of the project's 30 young participants from nervous starts till a loud finish.

Director/ Producer/
Camera/ Editor: Sharon McCance

Sound dub:
Editor mentor: Leo Saidenough
Cassandra McGrogan

Soundtrack:
A huge amount of enormously talented musicians from Glasgow's eastside.

Project Mentor
(Diversity Films): Marie Olesen

Diversity Films Mentors: Doug Aubrey
Abigail Howkins

Watch the film and full credits here: <http://www.diversityfilms.org.uk/films/DiversityFilmsProjects.html>

Interviews with Sharon McCance and/or Diversity Films can be arranged by contacting Marie Olesen at Diversity Films, 0141 357 7299 or 07932 074 245 or marie@diversityfilms.org.uk, who can also get you pictures. Diversity Films finds, trains and mentors new filmmaking talent from across Scotland. www.diversityfilms.org.uk

The Legacy is a Diversity Films production in association with Scottish Screen and Awards for All. Diversity Films are funded by Scottish Screen, the Paul Hamlyn Foundation and the Scottish Arts Council. Partners in the project include 4 Talent, FARE (Family Action Rogerfield Easterhouse) and Platform. British Urban Collective is the brainchild of Freeport Records, <http://www.freeportrecords.com>

